

BUY A POPPY

Members of the Grayling American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 106 will again sell poppies this year as they have in the past. The small red paper poppies are made by the Veterans in the hospitals at Battle Creek and Grand Rapids, Michigan and in many instances is the only means the veteran has of earning a few dollars each year. The money which the local unit obtains from the sale of the poppies is used exclusively for rehabilitation and child welfare work, which are two of the most important programs. Please — when the girls approach you and ask you to buy an American Legion made poppy don't turn them down, for in buying the poppy you may indirectly be helping some one near and dear to you. Poppy Sales will start May 24th and continue through Memorial Day.

"African Safari" was the title of the movie shown at the last meeting of the Sportsman's Club. At least 50 were in attendance and the consensus of opinions was that it was extra good. We are indebted to the Pfeifers Brewing Company for use of the picture, to Fred Bear for the use of his projector and to Frank Scott for operating the projector.

Bow and arrow hunters will be pleased to know that the largest bear ever taken in the State of Michigan by bow and arrow or gun was shot with an arrow last year by Dean P. Loveless of Hamtramck, Michigan. The bear tressed out 555 pounds, computed gun weight was 632 pounds.

Last year hunter tabulations show 815 bear shot in the Upper Peninsula and 384 in the Lower Peninsula.

Vikings Windup Mediocre Track And Field Season

Four School Records Shattered This Year

An early season up and coming track team faded in the last few meets due to injuries and absenteeism to wind up fourth in the conference and end a mediocre season by placing but one in the Regional Meet at Cadillac last Saturday.

In the Conference meet held at Cadillac the Saturday previous Grayling trailed Houghton Lake, Roscommon and Marion in that order with Kalkaska and Lake City trailing behind the Vikings. Jim McClain injured his heel in the broad jump with Wilfred Lauert injuring his back in the same event. This broke up both of Grayling's relay teams as both injured tracksters were part of the teams.

It was estimated by Coach Bruce Smith that this cost the Vikings a big majority of points.

Grayling sent only five men to the Regional meet last Saturday because of injuries. Terry Hilton placed fourth in the High Hurdles to give the Vikings their only spot in the meet.

Crackpot Thinking

The nation's capital is frequently the source of amazing stories. And one of the most incredible of all was carried by the press associations under a Washington dateline early in April.

It seems that staff experts of the House-Senate Economic Committee, which is studying inflation and related problems, suggested that a "luxury tax" be placed on meat. They added that meat is really a "luxury food" and so it might as well bear a special tax.

This, to put it mildly, is about as crackpot an idea as anyone has come up with in a long time. Its only purpose can be to drive the American standard of living downward toward subsistence levels as rapidly as possible. If meat is a "luxury," then the vast majority of Americans indulge in luxurious living every day—and many of them do it three times a day. They don't all go in for T-bones by any means, but they buy some kind of meat and they relish it.

Moreover, it has been scientifically proven that meat, because of its whole protein content, has a direct beneficial influence on the mental and physical health of the individual. It makes for strength, stamina, and morale—a fact which was demonstrated on a mass scale in the Army during the last war, when the military diet contained an unusually high proportion of meat. Other established discoveries show that meat is of the greatest value in many kinds of illness, and in a high percentage of prenatal and postnatal cases.

It is good to report that the committee itself did not endorse a "luxury tax" on meat. Apparently the members, who are responsible to constituents with the power of the ballot, had better sense. But the fact that "staff experts" even suggested such a tax, casts a great white light on some of the thinking that is going on in the nation's capital where laws are made and policies established.

It's Where the Pounds Pay Off

One thing that people notice when they take over a Buick is the sure-footed stance this fine automobile has on the road.

You head into a curve and hold firm and true. You travel a turnpike without sway or wander.

While your wheels may dance when you hit a stretch of washboard gravel—your car holds its level course.

A lot of things account for this beautifully poised performance, but it starts with stalwart structure and ample weight—plenty of pounds where pounds are needed.

Please don't get us wrong. This isn't "deadweight." Though a Buick like the one pictured here tips the scales at more than two tons, it's as nimble as an antelope at play.

It has a generous handful of valve-in-head Fireball power—packing a powerful punch of velvet velocity.

It comes with the smooth magic of Dynaflow Drive*—a lightness of steering that's gently responsive to a lady's hand—a front-end geometry that's pure genius—the finest brakes ever put on a Buick.

And every wheel rides on shock-eating coil springs that are carefree and trouble-free for the life of your car.

You'll also find—by a few moments of simple arithmetic—that the pounds in this bounteous beauty pay off in another way. On a cents-per-pound basis, it will cost less to buy than anything else near its weight and power and size.

Why not visit us real soon—like the first thing tomorrow—and let us show you why you and your budget will both be happy with this Buick?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series. When better automobiles are built, Buick will build them.

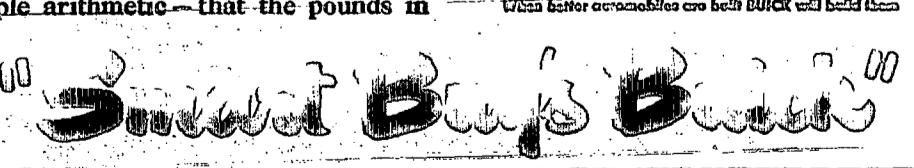

Who can provide all this?

Guide To Fishing

By JACK SCHWEIGERT
WSDW Roving Reporter

Many think the barometer is a joke when it comes to fishing, also the sun and moon theory is regarded as bunk. But the old-timers watch this to a great extent. The old Indian saying is "When the Sun and Moon shine together the fishing is not too good." Other legends as to weather and fishing should not be overlooked. As "morning dew - no fish for you." "Evening red and morning gray" - start the fishermen on their way." Evening gray and morning red - the fishermen will stay in bed." Rainbow in the morning - a stern warning." Rainbow near night - makes fishing alright." But as I said the old-timers watch this, but the fishermen of today have one theory, and this is how they figure it out.

"Subtract the barometer reading from the humidity, then add 50% of the temperature, divide this by the combined totals of the sun and moon rise, add this to the time of the tide, then find the equivalent to the Salunar Tables, total all your fishing charts high points and subtract this from the days in the month, then divide this by the months in the year, then add the days of the month."

By doing this the answer all fishermen will get is - "go fishing regardless."

This theory applies very much to this next weeks fishing, as there are no real high points, around the middle of the day the fishing should be somewhat better, for the evenings will be rather cool for good catches, but if we have warm evenings fishing will be fair.

For the week end conditions of streams and hatchets, tune in on WSGW Sports Final every Friday at 6:15 P. M., 790 kc. Or if you have any questions concerning, we will answer if addressed to "Guide to Fishing," Box 41, Roscommon, Mich.

liberations, has set a new record of some kind in the opinion of veteran observers.

After taking it easy for four months, the House and Senate are now trying frantically to digest an avalanche of bills before adjournment on May 23. Bills are being considered hastily; committee amendments are not being read in many instances; rules are being suspended whereby a bill goes immediately from general orders to final vote—all in a matter of seconds.

Like the old railroad collision joke, lobbyists who have seen legislatures function at the state capitol for many years concluded: "There ought to be a better way to run the legislature than this."

Lack of leadership in both the House and Senate prompted the Associated Press bureau chief, Jack Green, to write: "The 1951 session should be written in history as one of the weakest, most do-nothing, most plodding." Few Republican office holders could find fault with his indictment.

In fact, one leading Republican office-holder—a popular vote-getter last November—believes that the Republican party must do something about the legislature's inefficiency if it is to merit continued support in Michigan. He proposes that the party caucus agree on legislative rules which might insure the 1952 session from degenerating into the same plight—a last minute rush to get action after months of delay and inaction.

The popular primary is blamed in part for the rise of leaders who feel no responsibility to the party and hence do as they please.

Interesting enough is the trend of the "Little Hoover" fact-finding report, as submitted by so-called experts, to recommend centralization of authority in the hands of the governor. Michigan's split between the governor and other administrative offices and the legislature has contributed to a stalemate with consequent confusion and strife.

The House of Representatives approved a bill to increase their salaries for the second time in two years. In 1948 legislators drew $1,095. In 1949 this was raised, under authority of a new amendment to the constitution, to $2,900 plus $400 annual expenses. The House recently voted to boost this to $4,500 a year — $3,500 salary plus $900 in expenses. A Republican caucus in the Senate cooled off the legislators' fever somewhat. No increase in salary but $900 in expenses was recommended.

Senator Blair Moody, Williams' appointee at Washington, has indirectly prompted a movement among Republicans to nominate Arthur Vandenberg, Jr., for the office next year. Moody pleads for continuance of the Vandenberg tradition of unpartisan foreign relations—a policy probably best.
